Park & Recreation facility improvements

Dickerson Center: A new vinyl floor has been installed and striped. This is one of the many improvements happening at this community center.

Henry Lee Park: Mulch has been replaced with a new rubber surface in both playground areas. The poured-in-place surface provides a safer, more durable and virtually maintenance-free surface.

Schnebly Recreation Center: The center's two regulation-sized basketball courts have been resurfaced and painted. New hoops and poles with padding have been installed as well. The courts are open from sunrise to sunset seven days a week.
