WE ARE HIRING!
Lifeguards & Summer Casual Workers

Join our team this summer

Job openings! The City of Daytona Beach's Parks & Recreation Department is seeking seasonal lifeguards and summer casual workers to join their dynamic team. From supervising summer camps to ensuring safety at our facilities, there's a role for everyone. Summer casual workers start at $13 per hour, with opportunities to guide, coach and assist in recreational activities. WSI-certified lifeguards begin at $17 per hour. Responsibilities include monitoring water activities, enforcing rules and providing first aid and CPR as needed. Ready to make a splash?

Apply now at www.CODB.us/Jobs.

Community center programs

Did you know the city of Daytona Beach has over 30 diverse programs that residents can attend weekly? From line dancing to the tranquil serenity of yoga, there's something for every interest and age group. Whether you're looking to make a splash with swim lessons, connect at Senior Oasis, showcase your skills at game night or express your creativity through quilting, the city's five centers provide a welcoming space for all to come together and learn.

YAC Easter egg hunt

The Young Adult Club's (YAC) hosted an Easter egg hunt party last Friday for adults with special needs. Attendees hopped their way through the Schnebly Recreation Center with food, Easter egg coloring, dancing and good times. For more information about YAC, call (386) 671-3560.

Schnebly's After-school program meets Bacci the goat

Part of the Tween Book Club at the city's after-school program, students had a blast meeting Bacci the goat. These students read a chapter book from the Sunshine State Young Readers Award list every month. Written about a girl with an emotional support goat, students had the opportunity to read "Better with Butter" this month.

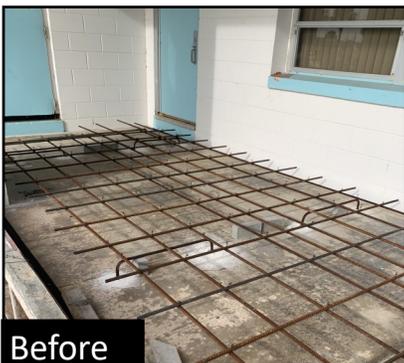

Employee Spotlight: Valerie Burks

Valerie Burks has served the city's Park & Recreation department for the past seven years. In her role as Financial Business Analyst, Burks collaborates closely with Parks & Recreation Director Keith Willis to handle all administrative tasks crucial for the department's operations. She oversees various functions including forecasting, feasibility studies, economic impact assessments and planning and funding for programs and events. Burks is actively engaged in efforts to restructure and enhance the efficiency of processes within the Parks & Recreation Department. Utilizing technology, she aims to streamline operations, such as transitioning facility rentals and program registrations to online platforms.

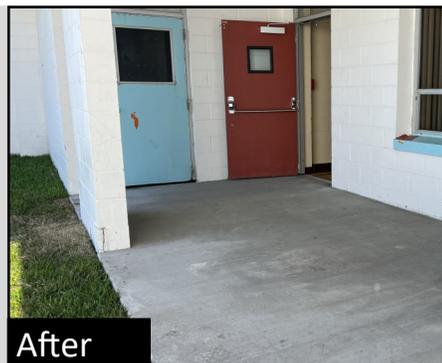

Visit Cypress Aquatic Center

Make a splash this spring at the city's Cypress Aquatic Center, 981 George W. Engram Blvd. Patrons can enjoy open swim from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Saturday. Admission is $3 for adults and $2 for youth 17 and younger. For more information about Cypress Aquatic Center and its amenities, visit www.CODB.us/CypressAquaticCenter.
